12 July 2022, 09.30 – 16.30

Programme

9.30 Welcome
Vanessa Higgins, UK Data Service

9.45 Keynote presentation

Chair: Vanessa Higgins, UK Data Service

Are we there yet? Adjusting to the new normal in health research
Dr Laura Johnson, Director of the Centre for Health Research, National Centre for Social Research

Laura will explore what we know about how the pandemic has affected health and health related behaviours and how our research methods for understanding this change have also been impacted. She will discuss what may lay in store for health research methods in the future, including the importance of passive data collection.

10.15 Cross-sectional survey updates

Chair: Mari Toomse-Smith, National Centre for Social Research

During this session, data producers will discuss the latest developments in cross-sectional surveys.
