Some tips on using the databanks

Tip 1: choose your data from the same databank or family of databanks

- comparability issues between data from different databanks, even for series with well-established standards
- theoretically identical series can have slightly different values in different databanks

Direction of Trade Statistics

Database Specific

Abstract

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) Direction of Trade Statistics (DOTS) database presents the value of merchandise exports and imports disaggregated according to a country's primary trading partners. Area and world aggregates are included in the display of trade flows between major areas of the world. Reported data is supplemented by estimates whenever such data is not available or current. Imports are reported on a cost, insurance and freight (CIF) basis and exports are reported on a free on board (FOB) basis, with the exception of a few countries for which imports are also available FOB. Time-series data includes estimates derived from reports of partner countries for non-reporting and slow-reporting countries.
